

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

THIS Latin Primer is intended to be preparatory to the other volumes of my Latin Series. The forms are presented in accordance with the Grammar; the arrangement is very much that of the Exercise-Book, and the Vocabulary and Reading Lessons are taken mainly from the Reader; and it is hoped that the pupil who masters the Primer thoroughly will find the First Course of the Exercise-Book, the first three parts of the Reader, and the Inflections of the Grammar little more than a rapid review of what he has learned here.

Maximum of Forms, Minimum of Syntax, Early Contact with the Language in Mass,—these are the principles which have guided me in the construction of the Primer, and practical familiarity with the needs of beginners in a kindred department convinces me that the principles are correct, however faulty the application may be.

L A T I N P R I M E R.

PART I.

I. PRONUNCIATION.

1. Alphabet: THE Latin alphabet is the same as the English, except that it has no W.

2. Vowels: The vowels are a, e, i, o, u, and (in Greek words only) y; and are divided into:

long,	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	—
short,	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	)
common, i. e., sometimes short, and sometimes long,										=
	“			long			“			short

REMARKS.—1. Y is made by putting the mouth in the oo position and saying ee.

3. Sounds of the Vowels:

ā = a in father .	ō = o in bone .
ē = e in prey .	ū = oo in moon .
ī = i in caprice .	ŷ = u in sûr (French).

REMARKS.—1. Y is made by putting the mouth in the oo position and saying ee.

2. The short sounds are only less prolonged in pronunciation than the long sounds, and have no exact English equivalents. Part, pet, pit, obey, cook, may serve for the shorts. The short y = u in sur (Fr.).

EXERCISE.

- | | |
|-------------------------|-------------------------|
| a : dā, fā, stā. | ō : dō, nō, stō. |
| e : dē, fē, nē. | ū : tū, nū, rū. |
| i : mī, nī, sī. | y : mŷ, nŷ, grŷ. |
- | |
|---|
| ā and ā : cā-lō, ca-lō; cā-nō, ca-nō; cā-rō, ca-rō. |
| ē and ē : lē-gō, le-gō; vē-nī, ve-nī; sē-de, se-dē. |
| ī and ī : nī-sī, ni-sī; sī-tis, si-tis; fī-de, fi-dē. |

o and ô : rō-sa, ro-sa ; nō-tō, No-tō ; mō-le, mo-le.
 ū and ū : ū-ter, u-ter ; fū-ris, fu-ris ; tū-ber, tu-ber.
 y and ŷ : Ty-rō, Ty-rō ; Hy-lē, Hy-lax ; Ly-dus, ly-ra.

4. Diphthongs (double sounds) :

ae and oe = ae in Graeme or a in fame.
 au = ou in our.
 ei = ei in feint (drawled as if fay-vent).
 eu = eu in Spanish deuda = thay-oo-thah.
 ui = oui in French oui (more whistled than we).

Many scholars prefer to pronounce ae like English i, oe nearly like English oi. Oe is seldom found in Latin words according to the approved spelling.

EXERCISE.

ae : ae-ris ; fae-num ; glae-ba ; hae-rēs ; lae-na ; mae-stus.
 oe : foe-dus ; coe-pit ; moe-nia ; proe-li-um.
 au : cau-sa ; fau-stus ; lau-dō ; plau-sus ; nau-ta ; tau-rus.
 ei : ei ; heia.
 eu : heus ; ŷheu.
 ui : cui, hui.

5. Consonants : The consonants are sounded as in English, with the following exceptions :

C is hard throughout = k.

Ch is not a genuine Latin sound. In Latin words it is a k ; in Greek words a kh ; commonly pronounced as ch in German (an aspirated h).

G is hard throughout, as in get, give.

J has the sound of a y ; jam = yam.

N has a guttural nasal sound before c, g, q, as in anchor, anguish.

Qu = kw (nearly) ; before u, qu = c : equus = ecus.

R must be trilled.

S and X are always hard, as in hiss, axe.

T is hard throughout.

V was nearer our w than our v ; still nearer the French ou in oui.

Z is like dz in adze.

EXERCISE.

c : cae-dō ; cae-lum ; cē-dō, cē-dō ; ci-mex ; ci-nis ; cip-pus.
 ch : 1. Grac-chus ; pul-cher. 2. Cha-rōn ; chae-re ; Chī-lō.
 g : ge-lū ; ge-nū ; ge-stum ; gib-bus ; a-git.
 j : Jā-nus ; je-cur ; jo-cus ; ju-ba ; jū-ris ; ju-gum.
 n : 1. An-dēs ; in-de ; con-do ; an-te ; men-te ; mon-te.

- q: 2. An-cus; an-ceps; an-gō; rin-gor; an-xius; pin-xī.
 qu: 1. quā, qua; quae, que; quī; quō. quo-que.
 2. e-quus; ob-li-quus; an-ti-quus.
- r: rā-dō; rā-na; rā-rus; rē-mus; Rō-ma; ru-dis.
 a-rō; fe-rō; ge-rō; se-rō; ō-rō; ū-rō.
 cal-car; ju-bar; ef-fer; pu-er; a-mor; fur-fur.
- s: ās; aes; pēs; ōs, os; lis, cis; jūs, mūs.
 lē-gēs; sō-lēs; mā-nēs; mō-rēs; pul-tēs; ū-sūs.
- x: pāx, fax; rēx, grex; vīx, nīx; vōx, nox; lūx, crux.
- t: 1. tu-ba; tū-ber, tu-ber; tu-li; tu-met; tū-tō.
 2. nā-ti-ō, ra-ti-ō; i-ti-ō; ti-ti-ō; nō-ti-ō; pō-ti-ō.
- v: 1. vā-nus; Ve-nus; vi-num.
 2. a-vus, ae-vum; no-vus.
- z: gā-za; zō-na.

6. Syllables. A syllable (taking up) is as much of a word as we take up in calling it; it is the unit of pronunciation, and consists of a vowel, or a vowel and one or more consonants.

A consonant, between two vowels, belongs to the second a-mo, I love.

Two or more consonants belong to the following vowel:
a-sper, rough; fau-stus, lucky; li-brī, books.

EXCEPTIONS.—1. L, m, n, r join the preceding vowel: al-mus, fostering; am-bo, both; an-guis, snake; ar-bor, tree; but mn follows the general rule: a-mnis, river. L, m, n, r are called liquids.

2. When the consonant is doubled, the first belongs to the first, the second to the second syllable: cas-sis, helmet; al-lium, garlic; map-pa, napkin; an-nus, year; mīt-tō, I send.

3. Compounds are treated as if their parts were separate words: ab-igō, I drive off; rēs-pūblica, commonwealth.

The last syllable of a word is called the ultima; the next to the last, the penult; the one before the penult, the ante-penult.

EXERCISE.

Syllabicate:

1. asinus—misera—famulus—venātor—cicōnia—liberāvit—auricula—tribuetis—societātēs—animālia.

2. ~~fabrum~~—~~sacrum~~—~~agrum~~—~~patrem~~—~~vestigia~~—~~vesperascit~~—~~suspiri-~~ um—~~benignus~~—~~frustrā~~—~~luctārī~~—~~ignōminia~~—~~quiēscō~~—~~fractus~~.
3. altera—Vulcānus—philtrum—tempestās—monstrābō—longitūdō—moribundus—vehementer—ursus—superbus—fortitūdine—Alcmēna contemnis—damnum—omnēs.
4. accipiter—addictus—afferō—agger—allūdō—ammentum—annuō—appellō—arrōdō—altissimus—sagitta—sollicitudinibus.

At first the teacher must point out parts of compounds as : abs-condo, abtraho, dis-cordia, Hellēs-pontus, trans-eo.

7. Quantity of Syllables :

RULE I.—A syllable is said to be long by nature when it contains a long vowel or diphthong : ō, vae, lēgēs, saevae.

REMARK.—Every vowel sound followed by j is long.

RULE II.—A syllable is said to be long by position when a short vowel is followed by two or more consonants, or a double consonant : ars, collum, discō, castra.

RULE III.—A syllable ending in a short vowel before a mute, followed by l or r, is common : tenē-brae.

The mutes are p, b, f
 c, g, t, d.

The Latin groups are :

pr, br ; tr, dr ; cr, gr ; fr ; pl, cl, fl.

REMARKS.—1. The syllable must end in a short vowel : nāvī-fragus, mellī-fluus ; but ā b-rumpo, ō b-liviscor ; in pū-blicus, the only bl, u is long by nature.

2. In Greek words, m and n are included under this rule : Tē-omēssa, Oŷ-onus ; and other groups occur.

RULE IV.—Every diphthong, and every vowel derived from a diphthong, or contracted from other vowels, is long : saevus, conclūdo (from claudio), iniquus (from aequus), cōgo (from coigo = con + ago).

8. Accentuation : 1. Dissyllabic words have the accent or stress (') on the penult :

mān-do, I commit, ē-quus, hōres.

2. Polysyllabic words have the accent on the penult when the penult is long; on the ante-penult when the penult is short or common.

man-dá-re, to commit,
mán-dē-re, to chew,
ín-tē-grum, entire.

EXERCISE.

Accentuate:

- 1 molesti—culicēs—magnopere—cruciābant—parvulum—puerum—māter—sēdula—diligenter—cōnātur—insatiābiles—bestiolās—flābellō—abigere—nōlēbant—infelicem—infantem—relinquere.
2. assecla—advenit—peregrē—āfuit—impetrat—improbū—alacrem—hospitem—impigrum—pūlicem—cerebrum—perculit—genetrix.
- 3 concidit, concidit—invenit, invēnit—effugit, effūgit—remānet, remanet—immanēs, immānēs—annōtinus—vespertīnus—exsecrō—ēmigrō—tantulus—cucūlus—ējulant—mullerēs.

II. CLASSIFICATION OF WORDS.

9. Parts of Speech:

The parts of speech are:

I. The Noun, which embraces:

1. The Substantive, which gives a name: vir, a man; Cocles, Cocles; dōnum, a gift.

2. The Adjective, which adds a quality to the substantive; as, bonus, good. So bonus vir, good man, malum dōnum, evil gift.

II. The Pronoun, which points out: tū, thou; is, he.

III. The Verb, which says: vir currit, The man is running 'Is running' is said of 'the man.'

IV. The Particles, which embrace:

1. The Adverb, which shows circumstances: sic, so.

2. The Preposition, which shows local relation : prō, before.

3. The Conjunction, which shows connection : et, and ; sed, but ; nam, for.

To these the Interjection or cry is often added : Ēheu, Alas !

EXERCISE.

In the following fable point out the Parts of Speech :

Leō et Mūs.

Lion and Mouse.

Leō magnus dormiebat in silvā ; prope lūdēbant mūrēs
 Lion great was-sleeping in wood ; near-by were-playing mice, et incautē ūnus nāsum leōnis tetigit. Leō exporrectus murem and carelessly one nose of-lion touched. Lion roused mouse corripit. Tum mūs ōrāvit eum : Dā mihi veniam, grātus seizes. Then mouse besought him : grant to-me pardon, grateful tibi erō. Leō respondet : Ō misera bestiola, quid tū mihi to-thee I-will-be. Lion answers : O wretched little-beast, what thou to-me prōderis ? Sed ignōscam tibi et dīmittam tē, nam good-will-be ? But I-will-grant-forgiveness to-thee and I-will-let-go thee, for leōnēs sunt generōsī. Effuge. Mūs effugit. Paulō post lions are generons. Scamper. Mouse scampers. A-little afterward leō, praedam quaerens, inciderat in laqueōs. Fremēbat lion, prey seeking, had-fallen into snares. He-was-roaring maximē. Cito mūs, quī fremitum audīverat, accurrit. Acūtis very-greatly. Quickly mouse, who roaring had-heard, runs-up. With-sharp dentibus laqueōrum nōdōs rōdit et laqueōs solvit. Ēn, parvus teeth snares' knots it-gnaws and snares loosens. Lo, little mūs liberat magnum leōnem.
 mouse sets free great lion.

10. Inflection : Inflection is a change in the form of a word, corresponding to a change in its use. This change takes place chiefly in the end of a word.

The inflection of nouns and pronouns is called declension, and nouns and pronouns are said to be declined.

The inflection of verbs is called conjugation, and verbs are said to be conjugated.

III. NOUNS—GENDERS—CASES.

11. Proper and Common Nouns: Nouns substantive are either proper or common.

The proper noun is proper, or peculiar, to certain persons or things: Horātius, Horace; Neāpolis, Naples; Padus, Po.

Common nouns are common to a whole class: dominus, a lord; urbs, a city; amnis, a river.

12. Genders. 1. For the names of living creatures the gender is determined by the signification; for things and qualities, by the termination.

Males are masculine; Females, feminine.

Masculine: Rōmulus; Jūpiter: vir, man; equus, horse.

Feminine: Cornēlia; Jūnō; fēmina, woman; equa, mare.

2. Some classes of words without natural gender have their gender determined by their meaning:

I. Winds and Rivers, Months and Mountains are considered Masculine.

II. Countries, Islands, Trees, and Cities are considered Feminine.

III. Words that cannot be declined Neuters are—of neither kind.

3. A word we call of gender common,
That stands for man as well as woman:

ocniva, a guest; dux, a leader.

13. Cases: The Latin noun has six cases:

1. Nominative (Case of the Subject).

Answers: who? what?

2. Genitive (Adjective Case).

Answers: whose? whereof?

3. Dative (Case of Indirect Object or Personal Interest).

Answers: For or To whom?

4. Accusative (Case of Direct Object).

Answers: whom? what?

5. Vocative (Case of Direct Address).

6. Ablative (Case of Adverbial Relation).

Answers: where? whence? wherewith?

I. The Nominative Case is used like the English Nominative.

Luscinia (Nom.) cantat, The nightingale is singing.

II. The Genitive Case corresponds to the English Possessive, but has a wider use. It is often to be translated by of and the English Objective:

Filia rēginae (Gen.), The daughter of the queen.

It is often best represented by making a compound out of the Genitive and the word that goes with it:

Amor sui (Gen.), self-love (love of self).

Plēnus spēs (Gen.), hopeful (full of hope).

III. The Dative Case is called the Giving Case, because the Person to whom a Thing is Given is put in the Dative. The Dative implies a Thing Done For or To a Person or a Thing, considered as a Person.

It is often translated by the English Objective. It is called the Case of the Indirect Object in contrast to the case of the Direct Object—the Accusative.

Māter	(Nom.)	filiō	(Dat.)	dōnum	(Acc.)	dat.
Mother		to-son		gift		gives.

(The mother gives her son a gift.)

The son is the Person interested in the giving of the gift—which is the Result of the action of the verb.

IV. The Accusative Case is the case of the Direct Object, in contrast to the Dative which requires another object expressed or implied.

The Accusative gives:

1. The Object Directly Produced:

Māter dat dōnum, Mother gives a gift.

2. The Extent of an Action:

Ambulat multum, He walks much.

3. The Object Directly Affected:

Rāna necat muscās, The frog kills flies.

Nos. 1 and 2 are called Accusatives of the Inner Object.

No. 2 is also called the Adverbial Accusative.

No. 3 is called the Accusative of the Outer Object.

V. The Vocative or Calling Case is the case in which a Person, or Thing considered as a Person, is addressed.

It often has the interjection Ō! before it.

VI. The Ablative or Taking Away Case is so called because it is largely used to express :

1. That From Which something is Taken.

Besides this use, it also serves to give

2. The Place Where ; and

3. Circumstance or Attendance (Wherewith).

Because it is so much used with verbs, it is called the Adverbial Case.

EXERCISE.

Tell the cases in :

Lupi Grātia.

Wolf's Gratitude.

Lupus cui os in gutture haeserat vehementer
 Wolf to-whom bone in throat had-stuck violently cruciābātur. Gruī praeium prōmisit si illud ē gutture was-in-tortures. To-crane reward he-promised if that-thing out from-throat extraxisset. Quod cum grūs longitūdine colli facile effecisset, she-pulled-out. Which when crane by-length of-neck easily had-accomplished pretium sibi prōmissum postulat. Tum lupus multum ridens price to-her promised she-demands. Then wolf much laughing dentibusque frendens : Nōne satis, inquit, pretiū tibi videtur, with-teeth-too gnashing : not enough, said-he, of-price to-thee it-seems,
 Ō stultissima gruum, quod caput incolume ex lupi faucibus
 O most-foolish of-cranes, that head safe out wolf's from-jaws retulisti ?
 thou-hast-brought-back ?

14. Dependent and Independent Cases : Nominative and Vocative are called Independent Cases (Casus Recti) ; the others are called Dependent Cases or Oblique Cases (Casus Obliqui).

15. Formation of the Cases : The cases are formed by adding an ending to a common stock called the stem.

In trab-s, beam, trab-is, trab-I, trab-em, trab-e, trab-ēs, trab-um, trab-ibus, the common part is trab- which we call the stem; -s, -is, -I, -em, -e, -ēs, -um, -ibus, are the endings (case-endings).

IV. THE DECLENSIONS.

16. Declensions: There are five declensions in Latin, which are marked by the final sound of their respective stems:

	Stem-mark.
The stems of the First Declension end in . . .	ā
The stems of the Second Declension end in . . .	ō
The stems of the Third Declension end in . . .	a consonant,
or the close vowels	i and u
The stems of the Fourth Declension end in . . .	ŭ
The stems of the Fifth Declension end in . . .	e

The First, Second, and Fifth Declensions are called Vowel Declensions; the Third and Fourth, which really form but one, the Consonant Declension, i and u being semi-consonants.

See Note to Teachers, p. 192.

17. General Rules of Declension:

I. Neuter nouns have the Nominative and Vocative like the Accusative; in the Plural the Nominative, Accusative, and Vocative always end in ā.

In the Third, Fourth, and Fifth Declensions, the Nominative, Accusative, and Vocative are alike in the Plural.

The Vocative is like the Nominative, except in the Second Declension, when the Nominative ends in -us.

II. The Dative and Ablative Plural have a common form.

V. FIRST DECLENSION.

18. First Declension: The stem ends in ā, which has been swallowed up by the ending -is of the Dative and Ablative plural.

FEMININE.

SING.—N.	mensa,	the, or a, table
G.	mensae,	of the, or a, table.
D.	mensae,	to, for the, or a, table.
Ac.	mensa-m,	the, or a, table.
V.	mensa,	O table! or table!
Abl.	mensā,	from, with, by the, or a, table.
PLUR.—N.	mensae,	the tables, or tables.
G.	mensarum,	of the tables, or tables.
D.	mensis,	to, for the tables, or tables.
Ac.	mensās,	the tables, or tables.
V.	mensae,	O tables!
Abl.	mensis,	from, with, by the tables, or tables.

In like manner decline the adjective (fem.) parva, small.

Rule of Gender.—The gender is feminine, except when males are meant.

19. Rule of Syntax: The adjective agrees with its substantive in gender, number, and case.

 The adjective more commonly follows, unless there is stress laid on it.

50. Rules of Position : At this point review, varying either verbally or on the blackboard the order of words in the lessons according to the following rules :

I. The adjective follows its substantive, and so do the equivalents of the adjective—genitive and the like.

II. The qualifiers of the verb precede the verb ; for instance, adverbs and oblique cases with or without prepositions.

The adverb is put near the verb.

The indirect object generally precedes the direct object.

III. The reversal of the above rules produces emphasis. Hence, the emphatic place

For the verb is at the beginning ;

For the object, at the end of a sentence ;

For the adjective, before the substantive ;

For the adverb, at a distance from the verb ;

For the indirect object, after the direct object.

90. Rules of Syntax: 1. The Passive Voice denotes that the subject receives the action of the verb.

Active: Magister laudat, The teacher praises.

Passive: Discipulus laudātur, The pupil is praised.

2. The agent of the Passive is put in the Ablative with ab or ā; ab before vowels, ā or ab before consonants.

Discipulus laudātur ā magistrō, The pupil is praised by the teacher.

3 The Instrument is put in the Ablative.

Asinus ā famulis fustibus mulcātur, The ass is mauled by the servants with cudgels.

NOTE.—In English, when the agent is not expressed, the so-called Present Passive is often really a Perfect. Hence the use of am being, is being, to remove the ambiguity. When the agent is expressed the form is always present.

The girl is crowned by her mother, Puella ā mātře corōnātur.

XXV.—SYNTAX OF THE SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD.

92. 1. The Subjunctive Mood is so called because it is usually subjoined (subjungō, I subjoin) to another word or sentence. When it stands alone it is used

1.) To express a wish or a command. The commanding Subjunctive is called the Imperative Subjunctive ; the wishing Subjunctive is called the Optative Subjunctive.

Imperative Subjunctive: Amēmus, let us love; amet, let him love.

Optative Subjunctive: Fēlix sis, may you be happy.

2.) To express what the speaker thinks likely. This is called the Potential Subjunctive.

Potential Subjunctive: Amet, He may, might, could, would, should, must love.

2. The Imperative Subjunctive is best studied with the Imperative. See 147.

3. The Optative Subjunctive often takes the sign Utinam, would that.

1.) When the wish is for something future, we use the Present Subjunctive.

2.) When the wish is for something present, we use the Imperfect Subjunctive.

3.) When the wish is for something past, we use the Pluperfect Subjunctive.

As the present and the past cannot be changed, these wishes are decided against the speaker.

4. The negative of the Optative Subjunctive is regularly nē.

(Utinam) magister discipulōs laudet, Utinam magister discipulōs laudāret,

May the teacher praise the scholars. Would that the teacher praised the scholars.

(Utinam) nē discipulōs vituperet, Utinam magister discipulōs laudāvisset,

May he not chide the scholars. Would that the teacher had praised the scholars.

XXVI. SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD—(CONTINUED).

94. Rules of Syntax:

1. Ut, in order that, takes the Subjunctive; the Present after a Principal Tense, the Imperfect after an Historical Tense.

The Principal Tenses are the Present, Perfect (when translated by have), Future, and Future Perfect. The Historical Tenses are the Imperfect, Perfect (when translated by did), and Pluperfect.

The Present Tense is often treated as past time (Historical Present).

Instead of using in order that, it is often much more natural to translate by to and the Infinitive.

The negative is nē, in order that not, lest, not to.

2. Cum, as, since, when, takes the Imperfect and Pluperfect Subjunctive when used of the Past.

It is often well to translate by the English Participle.

3. Si, if, is used with the Imperfect Subjunctive, when the supposed case is not so.

Si, if, is used with the Pluperfect Subjunctive, when the supposed case was not so.

3. When the Verb-stem is short, the Perfect ends in ī, as :

124. Rules of Syntax:

1. In Latin Passives are used impersonally far more freely than in English. The English sign of the Impersonal is It.

Curritur (It is run), there is a running, people are running.
Consurgitur (It is uprisen), up they rise.

2. Active Verbs that take the Dative cannot be turned into the Passive except impersonally, as above. The Dative remains unchanged.

 The same rule applies to Genitive and Ablative.

Probus nēmini invidet, A man of worth envies nobody.

A probō nēmini invidētur, Nobody is envied by a man of worth.

XXXVI. PRONOUNS.

130. REFLEXIVE, DETERMINATIVE, AND DEMONSTRATIVE.

1. The Reflexive Pronoun is sui, sē, sibi, with the possessive sui, a, um. The Reflexive is used when reference is made to the subject of the sentence.

In English we often translate by a simple his, him, her, them, their.

Cervus sui admiratiōne fallitur, The stag is cheated by SELF-admiration.

Uterque viator sibi asinum vindicat, Each of the two travellers claims the ass for HIMSELF.

Viator humi se prosternit, The traveller throws HIMSELF flat on the ground.

Bias omnia sua secum portabat, Bias used to carry all HIS property with HIM (about him).

Cervus errorem suum intellexit, The stag perceived HIS mistake.

Viator se mortuum esse simulat, The traveller feigns (HIMSELF) to be dead.

So also when the subject of any part of the sentence is present to the mind as the speaker.

Vespertiliŏ ōrat fŏlem ut sibi parcat. Bat begs cat to spare HIM (i. e. the bat). The bat said: Parce mihi, Spare ME.

2. The Determinative Pronouns are :

1.) is, ea, id, 2.) Idem, 3.) ipse.

1.) Is, ea, id, etc., is used for the ordinary he, she, it, they.

It is also employed with more stress in connection with the Relative.

2.) Idem corresponds to the English same.

3.) Ipse is the emphatic self of contrast.

3. The Demonstrative Pronouns are :

1.) hic, 2.) iste, 3.) ille.

1.) Hic is used of that which is nearer the speaker (Demonstrative of the First Person) and often forms a contrast to ille.

2.) Iste refers to that which belongs more peculiarly to the Second Person (Demonstrative of the Second Person).

3.) Ille denotes that which is more remote from the speaker (Demonstrative of the Third Person). It is often equivalent to the famous.

XXXVII. PRONOUNS.

135. RELATIVE, INTERROGATIVE, AND INDEFINITE.

1. The Relative Pronoun is qui, quae, quod, who, which, (that).

Rule of Syntax: The Relative agrees with its Antecedent in Gender, Number, and Person.

The word to which the Relative refers is called the Antecedent, or that which goes before, because it always comes first in mind, if not in word.

The common pronoun of the antecedent (correlative) is is, ea, id. It is often to be supplied. Qui = is qui, Who = He who.

The Latin language uses the Relative much oftener than does the English.

Mūs, qui fremitum audiverat, accurrit, The mouse, who had heard the roar, ran up.

Pēram quae nostris vitis replēta est post tergum nobis dedit deus, The wallet, which is filled with our faults, God has put behind our backs.

Cornua, quae me perdidērunt, laudāvi, The horns, which have ruined me, I praised.

Cūr me interficias, qui tibi nunquam nocui? Why do you kill me, who have never done you any harm?

(Eum) quem amō, amō, (Him) whom I like, I like.

2. Interrogative Pronouns: The Adjective Interrogative is like the Relative. The Substantive Interrogative differs, but the difference is not strictly observed except in the Neuter Nominative and Accusative.

There is but one form of pronoun for direct and indirect questions. An indirect question is one that depends on a Verb of Saying or Thinking.

Quis es? Who are you? (Direct Question.)

Dic quis sis. Say who you are. (Indirect Question.)

Rule of Syntax: I. As a rule the Dependent Interrogative turns the Indicative into the Subjunctive Mood.

After a Principal Tense (94, 1.) the Present Subjunctive stands for the Present Indicative, the Perfect Subjunctive for the Perfect Indicative or any Past Tense of the Indicative.

After an Historical Tense the Imperfect Subjunctive stands for the Present Indicative, the Pluperfect Subjunctive for the Perfect Indicative or any Past Tense of the Indicative.

The Present Indicative is often used as a Past Tense (Historical Present) and then takes either set.

By "stands for" is meant that the speaker used such and such a tense in the Direct Question, for instance :

Direct Question : Quid tibi ursus in aurem dixit? What did the bear say in your ear?

Indirect Question : Rogat viātor quid ei ursus in aurem dixerit.
Rogābat viātor quid ei ursus in aurem dixisset.

Rule of Syntax: II. If the original question contained the First Person, the Reflexive is used in the Dependent Question.

Cur mē interficis? clāmat vultur. Why are you killing me? cries the vulture.

Vultur rogat vñātōrem cūr sē interficiat. The vulture asks the hunter why he is killing him (the vulture).

3. Indefinite Pronouns: Of these, notice especially :

- 1.) Aliquis, some one or other, used chiefly in Positive Sentences.
- 2.) Quisquam, and ullus, any (at all) used in Negative Sentences.
- 3.) Quidam, a certain one, often used where we employ the indefinite a or an.

XXXVIII. DEPONENT VERBS.

140. Deponent Verbs are reflexive verbs, which are not used in the Active Voice except in a few forms.

Deponent Verbs generally have an active translation, although we can sometimes bring out the reflexive or reciprocal (one another) sense, as in: amplector, I embrace (fold myself, put my arms round); lāmentor, I lament (lift up my voice); periclitor, I run my risk (stake myself); blandior, I flatter (make myself a coxer, act the coxer); rixāmur, we squabble (snap at one another). {

Some Verbs, such as vehor, ride, and videor, seem, although they have Actives, produce the effect of Deponent Verbs.

Deponent Verbs are so called because they are said to lay down (dēpōnere) the Active form and the Passive signification.

READING LESSON XXI.

Orestēs.

Agamemnōn cum Trōjā revertisset, interfectus est ab Aegisthō et Clytaemnestrā uxōre, quae illi¹ nupserat. Nam in balneis Clytaemnestra vestem capiti⁹ ejus injecit et adulter securi eum percussit. At Electra, Agamemnonis filia, Orestem fratrem infantem servavit et ad Strophium detulit. Cum ejus filio Pylade adolevit et intimam amicitiam junxit. Postquam ad puerem aetatem venit, cum illo Mycenae profectus, patris ulciscendi⁹ causam matrem et Aegisthum occidit. At parricidam Furiae agitabant. Itaque oraculo accepto⁹ amici Chersonesum Tauricam proficiscuntur, ut de templo Dianae signum Argos afferrent. Ibi regnabat Thoas, cui mos erat, ut⁹ hospitum sanguine numen placaret. Comprehensi ad templum ducti sunt, ubi Iphigenia, Orestis soror, erat sacerdos. Cognito fratre,⁹ ipsa coepit signum Dianae avellere. Interveniit rex et Orestem necari jussit. Sed cum ignoraret, uter eorum esset Orestes, Pylades Orestem se esse dixit, ut pro illo necaretur; Orestes autem, ita ut erat, Orestem se esse perseverabat. Rex mitigatus illos cum sorore atque signo Dianae dimisit. Orestes redux Hermionam, Menelai filiam, uxorem duxit et regnavit Argis et Sparta.

XLIV. ACCUSATIVE AND INFINITIVE—RELATIVE CLAUSES.

169. 1. In English, Verbs of Saying and Thinking sometimes take the Accusative and Infinitive. This is the rule in Latin.

Vespertilio se volucrem esse affirmat, The bat declares himself to be a bird (that he is a bird).

Felis verpertilionem murem esse putat, The cat supposes the bat to be a mouse (the cat supposes that the bat is a mouse).

Such dependent clauses are said to be in Indirect Discourse.

2. The Present Infinitive is used when the action of the Infinitive takes place at the same time as the action of the verb of Saying or Thinking.

The Perfect Infinitive is used when the action of the Infinitive takes place before the action of the verb of Saying or Thinking.

The Future Infinitive is used when the action of the Infinitive takes place after the action of the verb of Saying or Thinking.

PARADIGMS.

ACTIVE.	Contemporaneous Action.	PASSIVE.
Dicit : tē errāre, He says, that you are going wrong,	tē dēcipi, that you are deceived (90, NOTE).

Dicēbat : tē errātūrum esse, He was saying, that you were about to (would) go wrong,	tē dēceptum iri, that you were going to (would) be deceived.

3. Relative Clauses that form a part of Accusative and Infinitive sentences are put in the Subjunctive.

Faber affirmat sē eam secūrim quam deus retulerit amisisse,
The carpenter affirms that he lost the axe, which the god brought again.

Faber affirmāvit sē eam secūrim quam deus retulisset amisisse,
The carpenter affirmed that he lost the axe, which the god brought again.

The carpenter said : Ipse eam secūrim quam retulisti amisi.

~~§~~ The same rule applies to all relative conjunctions such as quod, quia, because; quoniam, since, etc.

READING LESSON XXII.

Somnium.

Cum duo quīdam Arcadēs familiārēs iter unā facerent, et Megaram vēnissent, alter ad caupōnem dēvertit, ad hospitem alter. Qui ut cēnātī¹ quiescēbant, concubiā nocte vīsus est in somnīs eī, quī erat in hospitīō, ille alter orāre, ut subvenīret, quod sibi ā caupōne interitus parārētur. Primō perterritus somniō surrexit: dein cum sē collēgisset, idque vīsum prō nihilō habendum² esse dūceret, recubuit. Tum eī dormienti idem ille vīsus est rogāre, ut, quoniam sibi vīvō nōn subvēnisset, mortem suam nē inultam esse paterētur: sē interfectum in plaustrum ā caupōne esse coniectum, et suprā stercus injectum: petere, ut māne ad portam adesset, priusquam plaustrum ex oppidō exīret.³ Hōc vērō⁴ somniō commōtus māne bubulcō praestō ad portam fuit; quaesivit ex eō, quid esset in plaustrō. Ille perterritus fūgit, mortuus ērūtus est. Caupō, rē patefactā,⁵ paenās dedit.

XLV. SENTENCES OF RESULT.

(CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES.)

171. 1. In English in order that denotes Purpose.

Eāmus ut thēsaurum tollāmus, Let us go IN ORDER that we may take up the treasure, (IN ORDER) to take up the treasure.

So that, with the Indicative, denotes Result. Here the Latin uses ut with the Subjunctive.

Simius tam bellē saltāverat, ut cūctis prope suffrāgis rēx creārētur, The monkey had danced so finely THAT he was almost unanimously made king.

~~So~~ So as to with the Infinitive is a closer translation, but is often awkward, often impracticable.

2. The negative of clauses of Result is ut nōn, whereas sentences of Design or Purpose take nē.

Nēmō tam ferus est, ut nōn mītescere possit, No one is so savage that he cannot become mild.

3. As that is used in English for both Purpose and Result, and also in sentences in which the Latin would use the Accusative and Infinitive, it is important to distinguish

1. THAT Final (Purpose).
2. THAT Consecutive (Consequence or Result).
3. THAT Narrative (Accusative and Infinitive).

Pylades so loved Orestes	THAT	(Consecutive)
Pyladēs adeo diligēbat Orestem	ut

he said	THAT	(Narrative)
diceret

he was Orestes	THAT	(Final)
sē esse Orestem	ut

he might die for him.

Nihil magis ridētur, quam quod est praeter expectātiōnem.

Cum laeisset testis Silus Pisōnem, quod sē in eum audisse quaedam dixisset,¹ Crassus ōrātor: "Potest fierī, inquit, Sile, ut² is, unde³ tē audisse⁴ dīcis, irātus dixerit." Annuit Silus. "Potest etiam, ut tū nōn rectē intellexeris." Id quoque tōtō capite annuit. "Potest etiam fierī, inquit, ut omnīnō, quod tē audisse dīcis, nunquam audieris." Hōc ita praeter expectātiōnem accidit, ut testem omnium rīsus obrueret.

XLVI. SUPINE STEMS.

173. I. The Supine is formed from the pure stem.

1. Vowel-stems and stems in U take -tum in the Supine:

am-ō, I love, amā-tum.

dēle-ō, I destroy, dēlē-tum.

audi-ō, I hear, audī-tum.

tribu-ō, I allot, tribū-tum.

Most verbs of the Second Conjugation drop, however, their own characteristic vowel before -tum, and insert the connecting-vowel i: mone-ō, I remind mon-i-tum. Some have no connecting-vowel.

2. Consonant-stems in a P- or K-mute take -tum in the Supine :

cap-ið, I take, cap-tum.

rēp-ð, I creep, rep-tum.

fac-ið, I do, fac-tum.

dīc-ð, I say, dic-tum.

EXCEPTIONS.—1.) Among the P-stems, only lābor, I slip, lap-sua.

2.) Among the K-stems, the Supine in -sum occurs :

A. In verbs whose Present-stem is strengthened by t :

flect-ð, I bend, flexum.

plect-ð, I plait, plexum.

pect-ð, I comb, pexum.

nect-ð, I knot, bind, nexum.

B. Some, whose characteristic is preceded by a Liquid : merg-ð, I dip, mer-sum ; terg-ð, I wipe, ter-sum ; parc-ð, I spare, par-sum ; sparg-ð, I sow, scatter, spar-sum ; mulce ð, I stroke, mul-sum.

REMARK.—The K-mutes are dropped in the Perfect and Supine between l-s, l-t, r-s, r-t : fulc-ið, I prop, ful(c)-si, ful(c)-tum ; torqu-eo, I twist, tor(qu)-si, tor(qu)-tum.

3. Consonant-stems in a T-mute take -sum in the Supine :

ed-o, I eat, ē-sum (for ed-sum) ; lūd-ð, I play, lū-sum ; dēfend-ð, I defend, dēfensum.

4. Liquid-stems have partly -tum, partly -sum. Stems in m and n take -tum ; stems in l and r take sum :

em-ð, I buy, em-tum, em(p)-tum ; veni-ð, I come, ven-tum.

ver-rð, I sweep, ver-sum ; fall-ð, I cheat, fal-sum ; vell-ð, I pluck, vul-sum.

But verbs with Perfect in ul have -tum, as. consulð, I consult, consului, consultum.

II. The Perfect Participle Passive is formed like the Supine.

III. The Future Active Participle is formed regularly from the Supine ; in some verbs, however, from the Present-stem.

amātūrus, about to love, from amāre, monitūrus, about to warn, from monēre, em(p)tūrus, about to buy, from emere, audītūrus, about to hear, from audire ;

but, juvātūrus fr. juvāre (Sup. jūtum) ;

moritūrus fr. morior, I die (Part. mortuus).

IV. Rules of Syntax :

A. The Supine in -um is used after Verbs of Motion (Going and Sending) in the same sense as ut with the Subjunctive.

Spectātum veniunt (= ut spectent), They come to see the show.

B. The Supine in -u of certain verbs is used after certain adjectives in the sense of the English Infinitive.

Facilius diotū quam factū, Easier to say (to be said) than to do (to be done).

 The Supine in -u does not take an object.

XLVII. INFINITIVE, GERUND, AND GERUNDIVE.

175. 1. The Latin Infinitive is used as in English.

- 1.) As the Subject of a sentence :

Ōrāre est labōrāre, To pray is to labor.

The Gender is neuter :

Facile est imperāre, It is easy to give orders ; To give orders is easy.

- 2.) As the Predicate of a sentence :

Labōrāre est ōrāre, To labor is to pray.

- 3.) As the Object of a Verb :

Cupio ēmorī, I want to die.

2. The Accusative and Infinitive is used

Like the English Objective and Infinitive

- 1.) As the Object of a Verb of Will :

Ad mortem tē dūcī jussī, I have ordered you to be taken to execution.

Much more widely than in English :

- 2.) As the Object of a Verb of Saying or Thinking :

Vespertiliō sē murem esse ait, The bat declares himself to be a mouse (that he is a mouse). See 169.

From these uses arises the use of the Accusative and Infinitive

- 3.) As the Subject of a sentence :

Ridiculum est tē sine mē vivere nōn posse, It is ridiculous that you should not (the thought, the statement that you are not able, your not being, for you not to) be able to live without me.

3. The Infinitive is used in the Accusative and Nominative Cases. The other cases are supplied by the Gerund.

GERUND.

N.	[dēlēre],	destroying, to destroy.
G.	dēlendī,	of destroying.
D.	dēlendō,	to, for destroying.
Acc.	[dēlēre], dēlendum,	destroying.
Abl.	dēlendō,	by destroying.

4. Gerundive for Gerund: When the Gerund would take an Accusative case, the Latin usually puts the object in the case of the Gerund and makes the Gerundive (verbal in -ndus) agree with it.

G.	dēlendae urbis	=	dēlendī urbem	(both common).
D.	dēlendae urbi	=	dēlendō urbem	(not used).
Acc	dēlendam urbem	=	dēlendum urbem	(not used).
Abl.	dēlendā urbe	=	dēlendō urbem	(much less common).

The Gerundive is the regular construction with Prepositions.

Ad dēlendam urbem, for destroying the city.

5. Gerund and Gerundive in Predicate: When Gerund and Gerundive are used in the predicate, they assume the sense of obligation, necessity, etc. The Agent is put in the Dative.

Ambulandum est nobis,	We must walk.
Omnibus moriendum est,	All must die.
Codrus nōn est praetereundus,	Codrus is not to be passed by.

So also the Gerundive after verbs of Giving and Taking, Sending and Leaving.

Rūsticus filiolum reliquit canī fidēli custōdiendum, A countryman left his infant son to a faithful dog to be kept (to keep).

plicāret numerum diērum, admiransque Hierō requireret, cūr ita faceret: Quia, quantō,¹ inquit, diūtius considerō, tantō mihi rēs vidētur obscurior.

XLVIII. ABLATIVE ABSOLUTE.

177. 1. Nominative Absolute. In English there is a construction commonly called the Nominative Absolute, in which the (so-called) Nominative with the participle takes the place of a clause with a different subject or object from the subject or object of the finite verb of the sentence.

The father being dead, the eldest son became the head of the family.

My brother having gone into the country, I am left quite alone.

This said, he departed.

The bread being exhausted, they lived on meat.

2. Ablative Absolute. This relation is represented in Latin by the Ablative Absolute, which consists of a substantive in the Ablative case with a predicate in the form either of a participle or of an adjective or substantive.

☞ The Ablative Absolute is much more common in Latin than the corresponding construction in English, and must be translated to suit the context. Samples are given below.

Xerxe regnante (= cum Xerxēs regnāret), Xerxes reigning. When Xerxes was reigning. In the reign of Xerxes.

Xerxe victō (= cum Xerxēs victus esset), Xerxes being, having been, defeated. When Xerxes had been defeated. After the defeat of Xerxes.

Xerxe rēge (= cum Xerxēs rēx esset), Xerxes [being] king. When Xerxes was king.

Patre vivō, WHILE, BECAUSE, THOUGH, IF father is, was alive (in father's lifetime).

Urbe expugnātā imperātor rediit:

PASSIVE FORM: The city [being] taken (after the city was taken), the general returned.

ACTIVE FORM: Having taken the city (after he had taken the city), the general returned.

ABSTRACT FORM: After the taking of the city. After taking the city.

3. It is often convenient, though by no means exact, to translate the Ablative Absolute as a Nominative and finite verb followed by and, but, or other conjunction :

Zeuxis flāgitāvit ut, remōtō linteō, pictūram ostenderet. Zeuxis demanded that he should remove the linen cloth AND show the painting.

READING LESSON XXVI.

Androclus et leō.

Apīōn Alexandrīnus refert, quod neque audisse sē, neque lēgisse, sed ipsum in urbe Rōmā vīdisse oculīs suis confirmat. In circō maximō, inquit, vēnātiōnēs amplissimae edēbantur. Ejus rei, Rōmae cum forte essem, spectātor fuī. Multae ibi erant saevientēs ferae inūsitatā¹ formā aut ferociā. Sed praeter alia omnia leōnum immānitās admirātiōnī² fuit, praeterque omnēs cēterōs ūnius. Is ūnus leō corporis magnitudīne terrificōque fremitū et comīs fluctuantibus animōs oculōsque omnium in sēsē convertit. Intrōductus erat inter complūrēs aliōs ad pugnam bestiārum servus virī consularis. Eī servō³ Androclus nōmen fuit. Hunc ille leō ubi vidit procul, repente quasi admīrans stetit, ac deinde sensim atque placidē tamquam nōscitans ad hominem accēdit; tum caudam mōre atque ritū adūlantium canum blandē movet, hominisque sēsē corpori adjungit, crūraque ejus et manūs, prope jam exanimātī metū, linguā lēniter dēmulcet. Androclus inter illa tam atrōcis ferae blandimenta missum animum recuperat; paulātīm oculōs ad leōnem refert. Tum, quasi mūtua recognitiō fieret, laeti adslitērunt et grātulābundī homō et leō. Eā rē tam admirābili maximī populī clāmōrēs excitātī sunt, arcessītusque ā Caesare Androclus interrogātus est, cūr ille atrōcissimus leōnum ūni peperciisset. Ibī Androclus rem mīrificam narrat.

Cum dominus meus, inquit, in prōvinciā Āfricā prōconsul esset, ego ibī iniquis ejus et quotidiānis verberibus ad fugam sum coactus : et ut mihi ā dominō, terrae illius praeside, tūtiorēs latebrae forent, in campōrum et arēnārum solitūdines concessi, ac si defuisset * cibus, consilium fuit, mortem aliquō pactō quaerere. Tum sol, inquit, cum vehementissimē flagrāret, specum quendam nactus romōtum latebrōsumque, in eum mē recondō. Non multō post ad eundem specum venit hic leō, debili ūnō et cruentō pede, gemitūs edens et murmura, dolōrem cruciātumque vulneris significantia. Prīmō quidem conspectū advenientis leōnis territus sum et pavefactus. Sed postquam intrōgressus leō in latibulum suum vidit mē procul delitescentem, mītis et mansuētus accessit, ac sublātum * pedem porrexit et quasi opem petere vīsus est. Ibī ego stirpem ingentem, vestigiō pedis ejus inhaerentem, revelli, saniemque expressi, accurātiusque sine magnā jam formīdine siccāvi penitus atque dētersi cruōrem. Ille tunc meā operū et medelā levātus, pede in manibus meis positō, recubuit et quievit. Atque ex eō diē triennium tōtum ego et leō in eōdem specū eōdemque victū viximus. Nam eārum, quās venābātur, ferārum membra opimiora ad specum mihi suggerēbat, quae ego, ignis cōpiam nō habens, sōle meridiānō tosta * edēbam. Sed ubi mē vitae illius ferinae jam pertaesum est, leōne venātum profectō, reliqui specum, et viam fermē tridui permensus, ā militibus vīsus comprehensusque sum, et ad dominum ex Āfricā Rōmam dēductus. Is mē statim capitis * damnāvit deditque ad bestiās. Videtur autem hic quoque leō postea captus nunc grātiā mihi beneficii et medicīnae referre. Haec Androclus. Tum cunctōrum precibus dimissus est et paenā solūtus, leōque ei suffrāgiis populī donātus. Postea vidēbāmus Androclum et leōnem, lōrō tenui revinctum, urbe totā circum tabernās ire. Donābātur aere Androclus, flōribus spargēbātur leō ; omnes ferē obviū dicebant : Hic est leō hospes hominis, hic est homō medicus leōnis.

NOTE TO TEACHERS.

THE classification of declensions according to stem-characteristics, is the only scientific method, and is destined to displace the old plan, even in elementary books. In dictionaries and vocabularies the declensions may still be designated by -ae for the First, -i for the Second, -is for the Third, -ūs for the Fourth, -ei for the Fifth, and to this extent the tradition has been followed in the present series. But this rough method of recognizing declensions cannot be used for exhibiting the formation without serious damage, practical as well as scientific.

I. The Genitive of the First Declension ends in -ae.

The stem ends in a, the genitive in -e, which stands for an earlier i. So in old Latin: Albāi Longāi = Albae Longae. Compare the Greek First Declension (A- Declension). The stem, then, is not mens- but mensa-.

II. The Genitive of the Second Declension ends in -i.

o has been dropped before i. The stem is not hort-, but horto-. So in the Nominative in older Latin: servō-s. Compare the Greek Second Declension (O- Declension), λόγo-s.

III. The Genitive of the Third Declension ends in -is.

This rule breaks down in the vowel stems in i, for the stem of collis is not coll- but colli-.

IV. The Genitive of the Fourth Declension ends in -ūs.

The stem is not fruct-, but fructu-; uis being contracted into ūs. Observe the obscuration of the connection with the Third Declension.

V. The Genitive of the Fifth Declension ends in -ei.

But -ei does not determine the declension unless the Nominative is stated, as rei may come from stem reo- (Nom. reus), as well as from stem re- (Nom. rēs), to say nothing of such figments as r-ei, sp-ei.

From such considerations it would appear that the true way is after all the short way, or, to adapt a familiar line, ἀπλοῦς ὁ μῦθος τῆς ἀληθείας ἔφω.
